Social Media Creator
Keeping Communities Connected

Essence Truesdell is currently pursuing her bachelor's degree in political science at Georgia State University, driven by a deep passion for understanding governance and law. With over 6 years of experience in the financial services industry, spanning traditional banking and a fast-growing fintech startup, she excels in leveraging technology to enhance operational efficiency and foster strong customer relationships. Beyond her aspirations for law school and professional growth, Essence finds joy in reading and exploring new recipes. She resides in Austin with her energetic toddler son, who ensures every day is filled with excitement and learning.
